COOKIE POLICY

How we install cookies
Cookies are small data files that are saved by your browser when you visit websites, including our website. The cookies are generally used by websites to improve the user experience in a manner that the website either "remembers" the user exclusively for the period of visit ("Work session" cookies, which are erased upon closing the browser) or upon repeated visits ("Permanent" cookies).

We do not use the cookies for storing information suitable for directly identifying you. At the same time please note that data like cookie identifiers or IP/MAC addresses qualify as personal data. If we process data qualified as personal data, it is always done in compliance with our Privacy Policy.

Our website uses the following types of cookies:

Strictly necessary cookies
These cookies are installed to help us learn how the users navigate to our website and, within this, to provide certain services at the site that may be useful for you (e.g. linguistic or printing settings). This helps us provide you with effective online services. We call them "Own cookies".

Strictly necessary cookies are as follows:

Name of the cookie	Purpose	Validity period
moove_gdpr_popup	Stores the fact of accepting the use of cookies.	365 days wpml_referer_url	Stores the last URL queried at the frontend.	24 hours
icl_current_language	Stores the selected linguistic version.	24 hours

Performance-related cookies
We may also use third party cookies ("External cookies") to track websites visited or search expressions used by you directly before our website or to collect data on how the visitors use the website. For this purpose we use Google Analytics. Google Analytics uses its own cookies. These cookies do not collect data that identify the visitors. They summarize the data collected by these cookies, therefore they are anonymous. They are used exclusively to improve the operation of the site. You can learn more about the cookies of Google Analytics here: https://developers.google.com/analytics/resources/concepts/gaConceptsCookies.

You can opt out the application of Google Analytics when browsing our website if you download and install the browser add-on accessible through this link: http://tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout?hl=en-GB.

Performance-related cookies are as follows:

Name of the cookie	Purpose	Validity period
_ga, _gat, _gid (and others on a case-by-case basis)	These cookies are placed to your device by "Google Analytics" and we use them to understand what contents our visitors find useful at our websites. The information collected anonymously and stored on the Google Inc. servers tells, e.g., that you visited our website, how	_ga	2 years
		_gid	24 hours
		_gat	1 minute

	you arrived at our website and which pages you visited. It may happen that the Google Inc. server is located outside the European Union or outside the EEA (e.g. in the United States).
DSID	Cookie used for DoubleClick retargeting, optimization and reporting.	expires immediately
IDE	Cookie used for advertising, helps to customize the ads.	390 days

How to disable cookies

If you do not want to receive cookies, you can change the settings of your browser. This can be done differently in each browser. If you do not want to receive cookies from our website but you receive them from other websites, you can also set your browser to send a notification every time before a cookie is saved on your device. For more information visit the "Help" menu point of your browser.

With regard to third party cookies, please contact the third party for information about data processing as we do not influence data processing by third parties.
You can find more information here: www.youronlinechoices.com

If you disable cookies, you may not be able to use certain services of the page and certain contents or functions are not accessible.

This policy has been made in the English and Hungarian languages, and in the case of deviation between the two versions, the Hungarian version shall apply.
